PITTSSTON.

The Sunday Wilkes-Barre Leader, commenting on the suit instituted by Editor Hart against the county for the payment of $300 for publishing the county statement, says: "The Pittston Gazette, which by the way, vigorously supported Abdnego's Rese for the control of last fall, has been compelled to sue the county commissioners for a bill of $300 for advertising the county statement, simply because Abdnego's conscientious scruples would not permit him to approve what he was pleased to regard an excessive charge, though he knows no more about the merits of the case than the average newspaper publisher knows about mining coal, the governing principles of which—at least in the matter of paying for labor—the controller is endeavoring to apply to the affairs of the county. Further than this, the bill is for work given the Gazette before Mr. Reese came into office and he really has no business with it anyway. For the publication of the statement $300 has always been allowed; but Reese wants to cut it down more than half, to about $140. It is hoped that the controller will feel the pricking of his conscience when he comes to draw his salary for the present month of May and refuse to accept pay for the time he tore himself away from the duties of his office to attend the state convention at Harrisburg. Right is right, and it is not right for him to be drawing pay from the taxpayers of the county the larger portion of whom are Democrats, while nobobbing with the Republican politicians at the state capital. That isn't what the people employ him for, and one who is so fearful of paying somebody else a dollar or two more than is earned should not be willing to accept for himself pay for any time not absolutely given to his employers. He will therefore be expected to resign in his last time and have the commissioners deduct it when drawing the order for his salary, or if they omit to do so, it is confidently anticipated that he will not approve the order until it shall have been corrected."

Among those prominently mentioned as a probable candidate on the Democratic ticket for fall representation from the Second district is W. I. Hibbs, esq., of the West Side.

Criticizing a Young Lady. "She would be a pretty girl for but one thing." "What's that?" asked Charley. "George—Her face is always covered with purple and red blotches."

Charley—Oh, that's easily enough disposed of. Use to be the same way myself, but I caught on to the trouble one day, and got rid of it in no time. George—What was it? Charley—Simply blood eruptions. Took a short course of P. P. and you, it is the best blood corrector. The governor had rheumatism so bad that you could hear him holler clear across the country every time he moved. He tried it, and you know what an athletic old gent he is now. If somebody would give Miss Daisy a pointer, she would thank them after wards. All the drug stores sell it.

OLYPHANT. Memorial day will be fittingly observed here next Wednesday. The Loyal Knights of America have charge of the parade which will take place in the afternoon, starting from the Old Fellow's hall at 1:30 o'clock. Many societies have been invited to join the parade and it is expected there will be 1000 men in line. The procession will pass through the principal streets of the town thence to Union cemetery where services will be held over the grave of W. W. Waters. From the cemetery they will march Lackawanna to the corner of Delaware and Lackawanna streets where appropriate exercises will be held. The speaker of the day will be Rev. Peter Roberts. The Hungarians will also celebrate the day by the rededication of their church on Willow street to which excursions will be run from Forest City and Nanticoke. It is expected that there will be twenty priests in attendance. Bishop O'Hara, of Scranton will be present.

Morris Moskowitz made a business trip to town on Friday. The dam of the Olyphant Water company, situated on the Hull plot, burst on Thursday night, flooding the vicinity of Eddy Creek shaft. "I had muscular rheumatism for twelve years. I took many remedies that were suggested, and was treated for three months at the hospital at Bethlehem, but did not realize any relief. Finally I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After taking one bottle I was surprised at success. I followed the directions and it helped right along. I had the worst kind of rheumatism, the pain being most severe in the joints of my hands and limbs. I could not use my right arm ever to cut a slice of bread. The neighbors thought I could not live long, and I wished myself many times that I was in heaven. I was so tired of life, but no tongue can tell the pains I suffered. But when I started on Hood's Sarsaparilla, my friends wonder at the change." Mrs. L. S. Beers, Weatherly, Pennsylvania.

ECONOMY TALK

A Dollar.

Teacher—George, what's a dollar? George—An exclusive bubble very easily blown.

Teacher—Wong, Charles, what's a dollar? Charles—A Porous Plaster to heal all wounds.

Teacher—No! Richard, what's a dollar? Richard—A tiny thing which some people bring so close to their eyes that it obscures all heaven and hell.

Teacher—Not quite; William, what's a dollar? William—God!

Teacher—Harold, what's a dollar? Harold—It's one hundred cents, because I heard my mother say she always got one hundred cents' worth for every dollar's worth she buys at the Economy Furniture Co.'s Wyoming avenue, and that is why my big sister got married and got her home furnished complete at the Economy on their Liberal Credit System.

Teacher—Correct; go to the head. You are smart enough to get married at once. The Economy Furniture Company is a blessing to all. Their liberality knows no bounds.
